

Digging for treasure

Answer these following questions.

Q.1. Where was the treasure supposed to be hidden ?

Ans. The treasure was supposed to be hidden in the garden.

Q.2. What did the children find when they first began to dig?

Ans. When the children first began to dig, they found only worms and stones.

Q.3. How did the children persuade Albert to dig with them?

Ans. They persuaded Albert to dig with them by promising him a part of the treasure if he helped to dig.

Q.4. How did Albert get stuck? Who came to rescue Albert?

Ans. Albert went into the tunnel with his feet first and started digging, with only his head sticking out of the hole. Suddenly the ground slipped and all of them tumbled together in a heap and the top of the tunnel fell on Albert. So he got stuck in the tunnel. Albert's uncle came to rescue him.

Q.5. What was the rescuer's observation about their chances of success in finding the treasure? Why?

Ans. Albert's uncle observed that there was very little chance of getting the treasure there. This is because he had never known more than one coin being buried in any garden.
