2. One day the Giant came and became furious when he saw the children playing in his garden. The children were also terrified to see a huge giant coming towards them. He scared them and chased them away. The children ran away as fast as they could.
3. After that day the children did not go to the Giant's garden to play. Soon Spring season came and all the flowers started blooming and new leaves covered the trees and plants everywhere. But nothing grew in the Giant's garden. The plants and trees were all dry.
4. The giant saw the green plants and flowers growing all around outside his garden. There was greenery everywhere but nothing grew inside his garden. He watched the children playing happily outside his garden. He became very upset.
5. The giant became very unhappy when he saw his garden bare, with dry plants and no children around. So he called the children and apologized for being very unkind to them and chasing them away. He also told them to come to his garden to play whenever they liked.
6. The children were very happy. They came and played in the giant's garden from the next day. The giant watched them with pleasure. Then, came Spring in his garden and all the trees and flowers bloomed once again. Everything in the garden became fresh and green. There was joy and happiness in the Giant's garden.
